My dear friend Abby,

I know you may have been looking forward to seeing Thorpe again this year. He has not stopped talking about you all year long, so I know he missed you too.

But you are growing up, and so it's time that I send Thorpe to visit another little girl who has never had the opportunity to get to know one of my wonderful elves.

I know you will miss him, but you have TJ to always remind you of the good times you spent with Thorpe, and he has a picture of you that he keeps in his suitcase to remember you forever.

I know you have had some struggles this year and have gotten in trouble. Thorpe wanted me to specifically remind you not to take anything that doesn't belong to you. He said you are too special to be someone who does things like that. And I agree.

Thorpe sends his love and a big hug from both of us. And when you see a twinkling green light, that's a message from your favorite elf letting you know that you will always be in his heart.

Merry Christmas Abby!

NORTH POLE

My dear friend

I know that this time of year you expect your elf friend to visit you and spend time with you and your family. My elves really love going to visit their special friends.

But this year, your elf is going to start spending time with a new family. I only have so many elves, and I do need some of them to stay at the North Pole to keep everything here running smoothly.

I know you will miss your elf friend, but there are many other magical parts of Christmas for you to enjoy. When you see a twinkling green light, that's a message from your favorite elf letting you know that you will always be in their heart.

As always, remember to behave and do the right thing so you can stay on my 'nice' list. I can't wait to visit your house on Christmas Eve!

Santa's Elves

We have so much fun when I visit your house before Christmas. I always look forward to our time together.

But this year, it's time for me to find another family to visit with. A family that has never had an elf of their own.

Everyone should get to meet one of Santa's elves, right?

I know you will miss me, and I will miss you too, but there are many other magical parts of Christmas for you to enjoy.

Remember, just because I'm not there to watch over you, doesn't mean that I can't see if you are naughty or nice. I will know, and so will Santa.

Sending hugs from me and Santa,
